Dr. Ofelia Olivero

Potomac, Maryland

Ofelia Olivero, PhD, is an International Coaching Federation (ICF) certified Life Coach and a Positive Psychology specialist. She serves as Secretary of the ICF Maryland Board of Directors. Ofelia holds a PhD in cytogenetics and worked at the National Cancer Institute (NCI) for 30+ years.

Born and raised in Argentina and doing bench research she authored 80+ scientific articles. With time, Ofelia paid it forward, becoming a mentor to more than 30 young researchers. She authored Interdisciplinary Mentoring in Science: Strategies for Success and has her own multilingual coaching practice.

She is a career and life coach, empowering all people to be their own selves, look for their passions, and move forward with their own solutions. With a holistic approach she seeks to work with the whole person, in career development, leadership skills or other issues that impact their lives. Her approach offers a safe space where clients can express their authentic self and reflect.
