

Executive Coach

Sarah Hyche, MBA, PCC

Charlotte, North Carolina

Sarah is an accomplished leadership consultant and credentialed executive coach with over 20 years of broad-based business experience. She advises senior executives in leadership strategies and career advancement, partnering to accelerate personal and professional performance and expand leadership capacity.

Sarah is skilled at helping leaders grow in areas including onboarding to new roles, inclusive leadership, communication style, executive presence, emotional intelligence, managing conflict, and navigating organizations and change. Prior to becoming a Professional Certified Coach (PCC), Sarah served as Senior Vice President, Leadership Development at Bank of America, delivering executive coaching and onboarding, talent and performance management, and organizational design services for the Global Marketing organization. She has held senior-level strategy, marketing, and product management positions across a range of industries and organizations, including Bank of America Merrill Lynch, Red Ventures, Nuance Communications, Vignette, Excite@Home, Kaiser Permanente, and Accenture.

Highlights

Executive Coach with FranklinCovey since 2018

Recognized by Influence Digest for being a Top 20 Coach in Charlotte, NC in 2021

Professional Certified Coach (PCC) with the International Coaching Federation (ICF) since 2016

Past Board Member of Third Sector Leadership, advancing leadership of non-profit Executive Directors in the Charlotte Region

Over ten years dedicated to partnering with clients to enhance personal and professional effectiveness

Education & Certifications

- Princeton University - Bachelor of Arts
- Kellogg School of Management, Northwestern University - Masters in Business Administration (MBA)
- Other Credentials: Myers-Briggs, Workplace Big Five, Hogan Assessment Systems, EQ-I 2.0, Leadership Versatility Index (LVI)

What clients say about Sarah

"Sarah and I had a very productive partnership, and I really appreciated her counsel and flexibility. From working through a more formal development plan to being a sounding board for current concerns, she always provided great perspective and an empathetic listening ear while holding me accountable. I've worked with many executive coaches in the past and Sarah is top notch!" Chief Communications Officer